Campus News

Kutztown University has been selected to appear on The Military Times' Best for Vets list. This recognition acknowledges KU's commitment to providing opportunities for America's veterans. Best for Vets: Colleges 2015 is an independent news project that evaluates the many factors which make an organization a good fit for service members, military veterans and their families. KU was one of only 100 higher education institutions chosen to appear on the list.

The Frederick Douglass Institute of Kutztown University hosted its "Walking in the Shoes of..." community service program on Wednesday, Nov. 12 on the KU campus. The program aims to help teens by bringing 25 adolescents from the local foster care system to KU, to gain exposure to campus life by shadowing a typical day with university administrators, faculty, staff and students. During the daylong event, participants had the opportunity to have lunch with a member of the KU community, visit a residence hall, engage in a career activity with current undergraduate students, hear a motivational speaker, attend a class in the Academic Forum, speak with Admissions staff and visit the radio station, among other activities.

David Kim, concertmaster with the Philadelphia Orchestra, will perform as soloist with the Kutztown University Orchestra on Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 7:30 pm in Schaeffer Auditorium. The orchestra will perform Tchaikovsky's Violin Concerto Op. 35 under the direction of Dr. Timothy Schwarz, assistant professor of music at KU. The concert is free and open to the public. Kim was named concertmaster of The Philadelphia Orchestra in 1999. He began playing the violin at the age of three, began studies with the famed pedagogue Dorothy DeLay at the age of eight and later received his bachelor's and master's degrees from The Juilliard School.

Dr. Patricia Heberer Rice, a historian at the Holocaust Museum's Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies, will give a presentation entitled "Giving a Face to Faceless Victims: Profiles of Disabled Victims of the Nazi 'Euthanasia' Program," at 6 pm on Wednesday, Nov. 19 in Academic Forum room 102. This special event is open to the university community and the public. Her presentation will explore how medical professionals enforced two significant aspects of Nazi policy: compulsory sterilization and the clandestine "euthanasia" program, the Nazis' first program of mass murder. Heberer Rice has served as a historian with the Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies since 1994. She is the museum's in-house expert on medical crimes and eugenics policies in Nazi Germany. In addition, she has contributed to several publications on the topic of the Holocaust.

KU's student group, Allies will be presenting Transgender Day of Remembrance on Nov. 20 at 11 a.m. in the McFarland Student Union Building 218. Transgender Day of Remembrance is to honor the individuals killed due to anti-transgender prejudice and violence. Transgender Day of Remembrance serves several purposes. It raises public awareness of hate crimes against transgender people, an action that current media does not perform. Through the vigil, love and respect are expressed for people in the face of national indifference and hatred. For more information contact Grace Hill, director, GLBTQ center at hill@kutztown.edu or 610-683-4655.
